- Alright,5th graders, listen up! Today's the day you embark on a railroad adventure to the National Railroad Museum! Get ready to chug along the tracks of history and have a blast! First off, remember to represent GMS with pride as you are representing our school and our community. Now, onto the fun part - train jokes! Why did the train sit down at the station? Because it had too many engineers! But seriously, folks, today's trip isn't just about laughs; it's about soaking up knowledge faster than a bullet train! So, as you explore the museum, keep your eyes wide open like train tunnels and your ears perked up like train whistles. There's a whole world of locomotive lore waiting for you to uncover! Remember, folks, it's not just about the destination; it's about the journey, too. So, enjoy the ride, soak up the sights, and let your curiosity be the conductor of this train of learning! All aboard the knowledge express! Let's make tracks and have a train-tastic day at the National Railroad Museum!

- Hey there, speedy superstars of the track team! Tonight's the night to leave those competitors eating your dust and wondering if you're actually part cheetah! I'm not saying our team is fast, but rumor has it that our runners once raced a gazelle... and won! So lace up those sneakers, stretch those muscles, and get ready to dash, dart, and dazzle like never before. Remember, it's not just about running; it's about running so fast, even the wind gets jealous! And hey, if you happen to see a tortoise on the sidelines, tell him he's welcome to join the race. Go out there, break records, and make the other teams wish they had brought a jetpack to keep up! Let's show 'em what GMS speed is all about!
- Please dismiss track athletes at 2:30 today. The bus will leave at 2:40 for their track meet in New London.
